

UTSA The University of Texas at San Antonio College for Health, Community and Policy

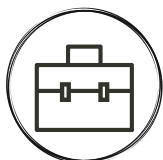

Bachelor of Public Administration and Policy

You want to make a difference in your community. You feel passionate about igniting change that will directly impact your neighbors, friends and family. Most of all, you have a flexible skillset that can adapt to the ever-changing climate of politics, policy and government.

A career in Public Administration and Policy is the right fit — and there is no better place to earn your degree than the University of Texas at San Antonio.

A Bachelor of Arts in Public Administration and Policy will prepare you for employment in the public and non-profit sector. In addition to learning the basics of administration, you will dive into urban management, the non-profit sector, tools of analysis and the role of ethics.

Along with your degree, you will gain skills employers want: critical thinking, problem solving, oral and written communication skills and a thorough understanding of research and data analysis.

CAREER PATHS

- Project Manager
- Policy Analyst
- Non-profit CEO
- Non-profit Fundraising Director
- Social Services Manager
- Legislative Chief of Staff
- Budget Analyst
- Human Resource Specialist

WHAT STUDENTS SAY

"The BPA degree program helped me develop the skills I needed to become a City Planner. My experience at UTSA gave me the resources and opportunities to land an internship for the city and a job after graduation."

-Marco Hinajosa '17, Senior Transportation Planner

CAREER GROWTH

According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, social and community service manager jobs are expected to grow 17% over the next decade - much faster than average.

Starting yearly salary averages $67,150.

HCaP students turn their passions into social impact. Many of our students are high achievers from diverse backgrounds, who are the first within their families to attend college. The College recognizes that diversity brings knowledge to the table, helping to shape our world for the better from a global perspective.