

THE DEPARTMENT OF COUNSELING OPEN RANK FACULTY
SEARCH CANDIDATE RESEARCH PRESENTATION

“Fostering Quality of Life in Black Women with Disabilities after Sexual Trauma: Best Practices for Counselor Educators.”

Ms. ShaRhonda
Stevenson

February 13, 2025
9:00am – 10:00am
Room: BV 1.328
Aula Canaria

Zoom ID:

<https://utsa.zoom.us/j/92794927462>.

ShaRhonda (she/her) is currently a doctoral student at Idaho State University. She has spent her career working with people of all ages with disabilities, first in Philadelphia, where she is from, and now in Idaho. ShaRhonda has worked in multiple treatment settings, nursing homes, and the community and has served these population through individual, group, couple, and family counseling. In addition, she has worked with multiple social services such as the judicial system, Child Protective Services, and Adult Protective Services. Her research focuses on systemic barriers that impact access to overall well-being.

For more information contact Dr. Jennifer Cook, jennifer.cook@utsa.edu, or Dr. John Harrichand,
John.Harrichand@utsa.edu