

GUIDELINES FOR FACULTY DEVELOPMENT LEAVES

DEFINITION

A Faculty Development Leave is a University-sanctioned and compensated absence from usual institutional responsibilities designed to enable a faculty member to engage in study, research, curriculum development, writing and similar projects for the purpose of adding to the knowledge available to the faculty member, the university community and society generally. Applications for leaves may fall into either of two categories: research related or training/career enhancement/teaching related proposals.

Guidelines for Applications

Faculty may apply for a development leave for one academic semester at full pay (i.e. fall 2016 or spring 2017) or two semesters at half pay, (i.e. fall 2016 and spring 2017).

Faculty members who are awarded a leave for one semester at full pay are excused from their usual institutional responsibilities during that semester. Faculty members who are awarded a leave for two semesters at half pay are excused from half of their usual institutional responsibilities for each semester. The faculty member and department chair/dean will make the necessary arrangements to redistribute responsibilities for the assigned period. Faculty members who apply for leaves are encouraged to give careful consideration to ongoing responsibilities that will have to be reassigned during the given semester(s).

1. Submit an electronic version of your proposal and a current dated vita to your department chair by January 16, 2016, who will transmit them to the chair of the College Faculty Development Leaves Award Committee by February 1, 2016.
2. The College Faculty Development Leaves Award Committee will evaluate the applications on the basis of their intellectual merit, and will make recommendations for development leaves to the dean by February 20, 2016.
3. The dean will review the recommendations for development leaves and, after consultation with the department chair(s) of the faculty member(s) submitting the proposal(s), give final approval. Notice of awards will be sent by the dean with a copy of the award letter to the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs on or about February 28, 2016.

ELIGIBILITY

Faculty development leaves will be available on a competitive basis to all tenure-track and tenured faculty who have served a minimum of two years at the university.

RESTRICTIONS

1. Faculty members who receive a development leave must agree to return to the university for a minimum of one-year following their leave.
2. A faculty member who has received a development leave will be eligible to compete for another leave after an interval of three years from the date of his/her prior leave.
3. A faculty member who has received a Faculty Research Award for the period from June 1, 2016 to May 31, 2017, is not eligible for a Faculty Development Leave.
4. A faculty member on faculty development leave may not accept employment from any other person, corporation, or government, unless the U.T. System Board of Regents determines that it would be in the public interest to do so and expressly approves the appointment.

REPORT

Faculty who receive a Development Leave are required to submit a brief (3-5 pages) report of their activities while on leave to the Dean's office through the Department Chair. These reports are due within one month following the conclusion of a leave.
