NEH SUPPORT FOR DIGITAL HUMANITIES PROJECTS: WHY, WHAT, AND HOW

This session will give attendees the opportunity to learn from NEH senior program officer, Jennifer Serventi, about the many funding opportunities for digital humanities work offered by NEH, including ones supporting work on artificial intelligence and the humanities. During the workshop, she will focus on the award programs offered by the Office of Digital Humanities, the Division of Education Programs, and the Division of Public Programs, but will be able to discuss funding programs across the agency. In her presentation, she will address two related questions:

- What opportunities are available to faculty and staff for digital projects?
- What kinds of strategies can you employ to take advantage of them?

She will also discuss ways that faculty and staff can participate in NEH projects and special initiatives beyond applying for an award directly from NEH, such as serving as a peer reviewer, participating in NEH-funded professional development opportunities, and becoming involved in the work of your state humanities council. LIVE CAPTIONING WILL BE AVAILABLE.
